

“GONE” OFF THE SHELVES

AMANDA NAGURNEY

Amanda Nagurney is a 23 year old singer, songwriter, and Country Recording Artist. Just over a year ago Amanda relocated to Nashville, TN with the hopes of her using country music as a platform to convey her stories, abilities and life on a national level. Her unique talents have been showcased while sharing the stage with country music's top superstars Sara Evans, Gretchen Wilson, The Band Perry, Burton Cummings, Bucky Covington, Jason Michael Carroll, Sarah Buxton, Travis Tritt, Justin Moore and several others.

Amanda has just finished her first album since living in Nashville titled “Gone”. The album accurately conveys Amanda’s life on an emotional roller coaster that anyone can relate to. Songs such as “You Can Make It On Your Own” accurately express advice from a parent to a child before taking the next big steps in life. “It Ain’t Just Music” captures the passion within those who have ever chased their dreams. Amanda’s patriotic side really flares in the song “American Made” in which the work she has done with the Walter Reed Army Hospital Wounded Warriors along with several other military shows really shines through in a proud and patriotic manner. The title track “Gone” that provokes feelings of independence and empowerment to any person who has been left behind in a relationship. It is this diverse culmination of tracks that allow Amanda to express herself and her talents through and through. From telling personal stories and experiences through blissful ballads to the fun and upbeat tempo songs that mirror her personality; each song has its own distinct feel that will separate one from another, keeping listeners interested through each and every verse and chorus.

Amanda’s diverse musical background really shines through as the album touches upon a broad range of genres and musical tastes that everyone will pleasantly enjoy. “Gone” will be available for purchase through several digital distribution outlets such as CdBaby, iTunes, Facebook, and www.AmandaNagurney.com. The C.D. will also be accessible at all of Amanda’s live concerts as well.
